With two regiments to care for, each would receive $5,500 a year, but out of that sum two batteries will have to be maintained at a cost of not less than $550, leaving the Kansas City regiment a balance of about $6,750. The regiment will also receive its share of $14,000 worth of quartermaster's supplies and ordnance."

Colonel Gross has had his military eye trained on the future since returning from Chickamauga. When the regiment disbanded the arms and accountements were delivered to the government. In order to replace them and to be in readiness for the expected reorganization, Colonel Gross months ago filed a requisition with Adjutant General Bell for supplies, among them being 400 each of infantry blouses, trousers, campaign hats, forage cups, blankets, blue shirts, knapsacks (complete), web belts and plates; bayonet scabbards, rifles, regiment number (3); fifty each of company letters, C. Colonel Gross expressed himself as being very grateful to the officers and men who rallied around him during his service and said that he earnestly hoped that the old Third, when reorganized, would grow like a green bay tree and again be ready to answer any call the country may make.

The Woman's Christian Association, at its last meeting, adopted the following tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Clara McDonald:

Mrs. Clara McDonald was for many years an active member of the Woman's Christian Association. Her wise counsel, kindly sympathy and generous hand have helped to make the Children's home what it now is. Her part in the work was that of finding permanent homes for the children and through her ministration many have passed from goverty and want to homes of love and abundance.

Of pure ideals and lotty aims, Mrs. McDonald won the love and respect of all who knew her. In the prime of life she has been called away, and although this feeble mortal sight may not behold her present radiance, the influence of her noble and generous character will ever he felt by husband, children and friends.

And thus the Women's Christian Association pays tribute to the memory of one who lived the life of wring devotion to others.

MRS. A. S. HAINES, Secretary.
